

Around the Province

Alfred, Me. Brothers Andre Yiga and Peter Kakooza made a stopover in mid-July while on their way to Walsh as they prepare to assume positions of responsibility at the Kisubi Center of the Brothers in Uganda

Fall River, Mass. After a week of faculty meetings, student orientations and senior retreat, Bishop Connolly High School launched another school year. The enrollment has dropped to about 307 students as of now. The school has hired a marketing firm to help with the planning of the school's future. The school has a young faculty this year with five college students teaching while working on their master's degree from Providence College.

North Canton, Ohio Br. Roland Vigeant has become the dean of the community at 84. Brother Ernest Paquette, a former missionary in Uganda for many years, has been busy writing his memoirs. Brother Jerome Lessard is recovering from a thrombosis and is due to resign from the Board of the Sisters of Charity Foundation after serving eleven years. Brother Joseph Power is looking forward to his visit to the Josephinum Pontifical Seminary in Cincinnati. Father Aloyce and Brother John Baptist Wamaani from Uganda will be following courses at Walsh.

Plattsburgh, N.Y. Br. Rene Demers spent two weeks in the hospital and is continually improving. He plans to continue his work on Alumni Lists, the newsletter, The Bridge, and manage the Seton Catholic concession. Br. Raymond Fortin is busy with mowing around the school and driving the elderly to their doctors or hospital. Brother Charles Thomas is continuing his volunteer work on Thursdays and Fridays.
